A. Parent suggests the declaration be forwarded to both the City and the County of Essex as they are at different stages of climate change planning work however the region should be united and support the climate change work already being done by ERCA and the Health Unit. If approved, the follow up administrative reports will differ as the City has a Community Energy Plan and a Climate Change Adaptation plan to draw from whereas the County does not yet have a Community Energy Plan.

Dr. A. Smit presents the law students who offered research support and a robust approach to the wording in the Climate Change Emergency Declaration. She further adds this is a model of experiential learning and one of many liaisons between the University of Windsor and the City of Windsor.
