Ethical Considerations Noted During the Period

Professional standards require internal auditors to report behaviour inconsistent with the organization's ethical expectations. During the period, we noted the following:

- No such behaviour or concerns were noted.

Direction Sought

Given the ever-increasing emphasis on independence, increasing inbound communications, allegation volume and complexity, additional efforts to comply with professional standards, the mandate of the Auditor General (AG) and the Office of the Auditor General (OAG) as well as a budget which has not been modified since 2013 the AG is recommending that the OAG research publicly available materials related to other municipal AG considering:

- Independence practices
- Professional standards alignment
- Budget
- Reporting structures

This research will be an integral part of, and be considered in, the 2025 Assessment and Reporting to Council and Management of Compliance with the Essential Conditions of the professional standards - the Institute of Internal Auditor's International Professional Practices Framework.

A summary report of the research findings, options analysis and recommendations for moving forward will be provided to Council for consideration.

Overview

Executive Summary

Context

On January 9, 2024, the Institute for Internal Auditors (IIA) Standards Board released the updated Global Internal Audit Standards (Standards), the main component of the International Professional Practices Framework (IPPF). The new guidance replaces the 2017 Standards and is effective January 9, 2025.

As per Council direction, SCM 218/2024, the Auditor General has completed the assessment of the gaps and the proposed resolution plans for conformance with the new IIA IPPF standards.

This report provides an update on the completion of the gap resolution actions.

Overview of the New Standard & Changes

At the heart of the Standards are 15 principles comprised of five domains:

Domain I: Purpose of Internal Auditing – provides a unified description of the profession.

Domain II: Ethics and Professionalism – incorporates the profession's Code of Ethics and Standards on practitioner conduct, including Standards on due professional care (Principles 1-5).

Domain III: Governing the Internal Audit Function – clarifies the board's role and responsibilities in supporting an effective internal audit function and addresses how the chief audit executive (CAE) can support the board in carrying out its responsibilities (Principles 6-8).

Domain IV: Managing the Internal Audit Function – clarifies the CAE role and responsibilities for effectively managing an internal audit function (Principles 9-12).

Domain V: Performing Internal Audit Services – codifies requirements and considerations to help internal auditors perform internal audit engagements with consistency and quality (Principles 13-15).

Supplemental guidance

Global Guidance – supports the Standards by providing nonmandatory information, advice, and best practices. Global Practice Guides and Global Technology Audit Guides are included under this category, providing detailed approaches, step-by-step guidance, and examples on various subjects.

Key Differences From Previous IPPF Guidance

The new Standards differ from the 2017 guidance in several ways:

- Emphasis on risk management alignment: Internal audit activities are required to be aligned with the organization's risk management framework to ensure a comprehensive approach to risk management.
- Formalized communication channels: Clear and effective communication channels between internal auditors and stakeholders are mandated, promoting transparency and accountability.
- Expanded scope of activities: Governance, culture and cybersecurity are considered integral components of the audit scope, with increased integration between assurance and advisory projects for comprehensive coverage.
- Focus on technology and data analytics: Internal audit functions are encouraged to develop and implement plans for leveraging technology-driven tools to enhance audit efficiency and effectiveness.
- Structural changes: The overall makeup of the Standards has been simplified and integrated for easier understanding and implementation.

Summary of Gap Assessment

The Auditor General previously conducted a gap assessment using:

1. Attendance at a workshop/seminar on what has changed in the IIA IPPF.
2. Leveraging the IIA-published Conformance Readiness Tool to identify new areas to address.
3. A review of the IIA-published Complete Global Internal Audit Standards.

The Conformance Readiness Tool "identifies the significant changes between the requirements of the 2017 IPPF and those of the 2024 Standards to help chief audit executives and their teams implement the new Standards and prepare for quality assessments before the effective date of January 9, 2025." The document lists 27 new significant areas and reviews the Complete Global Internal Audit Standards, identifying two other elements and several areas for enhancement.

In several instances, the requirements are practices which were informally in place but now needed to be codified and have evidence routinely generated as a natural output to demonstrate sustained compliance with the professional standards. In other areas, the requirements and evidentiary elements were new.
